CONSULTATIONS

Not sure where to begin? We'll guide you through your options and create a customized plan with clear goals, timing, and budget in mind. We offer Cosmetic Injectable consultations, Skin Health consultations, Hormone + Health consultations and more!

NEW-TO-YOU SPECIAL OFFERS

If you are a current tox & filler client, but have never tried out our facials, peels, or microneedling - or reverse, an esthetics client that wants to experience our injectables menu, we have great incentives for you!

APPOINTMENT POLICY

We understand schedules can change. To respect our providers' time and accommodate clients on our waiting list, we kindly ask for 24 hours' notice for cancellations or rescheduling (48 hours for Tiffany appointments). Appointments canceled outside this timeframe, as well as missed appointments without notice, will incur a $50 fee charged to the card on file.

New Client Confirmation

New clients scheduling with Tiffany must confirm their appointment within 48 hours of booking by phone, text, or email. Unconfirmed appointments may be automatically canceled.

PRP/PRF TREATMENTS

PRP/PRF treatments use your body's own growth factors for an all-natural way to help improve skin texture, tone, and overall rejuvenation in addition to skin rejuvenation, tissue repair, and volume replacement with minimal downtime. Common treatment areas include under eyes, mid face, temples, smile lines, neck, and hair follicles for restoration.

PDO THREADS

A PDO thread procedure is a minimally invasive non-surgical treatment using dissolvable Polydioxanone (PDO) thread sutures placed under the skin to lift, tighten, and stimulate collagen production. Targeted areas include the face, neck, or jawline.

FAT DISSOLVING

PC/DC and/or Kybella treatments help reduce stubborn fat without surgery, permanently. Most commonly used under the chin for jawline definition, these treatments can also target areas such as bra bulge, love handles, abdomen, thighs, upper arms, and back.

BIOSTIMULATORS

Biostimulators are injectable aesthetic treatments that stimulate the body's natural collagen and elastin production to improve skin firmness, texture, and volume over time. Products such as Radiesse used in hyper dilute form and Sculptra are commonly used to treat skin laxity, crepey skin, and volume loss on the face and body. Unlike traditional fillers, results develop gradually as collagen remodeling occurs over several weeks to months.

SKIN BOOSTERS

Skin boosters are injectable treatments designed to improve skin hydration, elasticity, and texture by delivering substances such as Hyaluronic acid into the superficial layers of the skin. Unlike traditional dermal fillers, skin boosters are used to enhance overall skin quality rather than add volume. They are commonly used on the face, neck, hands, and décolletage to improve radiance, smooth fine lines, and support collagen production over time. Skin boosters may be injected directly or utilized as an add on to microneedling.

SCLEROTHERAPY

Sclerotherapy is a minimally invasive treatment used to reduce the appearance of spider veins. A specialized solution is injected into the targeted veins, causing them to gradually fade over time with little downtime.

EXOSOMES
Exosomes are microscopic extracellular vesicles naturally released by cells that contain proteins, lipids, and genetic signaling molecules involved in cell-to-cell communication. Exosomes support tissue repair, reduce inflammation, and stimulate collagen production, support wound healing, and hair growth. These treatments are typically applied topically and used alongside procedures such as micro needling.

HORMONE REPLACEMENT THERAPY
Our Hormone Replacement Therapy (HRT) consultations take a personalized, functional approach to supplementing or replacing hormones that are reduced or imbalanced due to aging, menopause, or certain medical conditions. HRT manages common symptoms including fatigue, mood changes, low libido, anxiety, cycle changes, sleep disturbance, aches and pains, and more. We offer in-house labs, customized treatment plans, and ongoing local support tailored to your goals and needs.

PEPTIDE THERAPY
Peptides are targeted amino acid chains that help support the body's natural repair and recovery processes at the cellular level. Customized peptide protocols may help improve energy, recovery, metabolism, skin health, muscle tone, sleep, and overall wellness.

WEIGHT LOSS OPTIMIZATION
Our medically guided weight loss programs are designed to support appetite control, metabolism, energy, and body composition through personalized treatment plans and wellness support. Programs may include injectable compounded medications, liposomal supplements, and lifestyle guidance for sustainable results.

SEXUAL HEALTH THERAPY
Personalized treatment options designed to improve sexual wellness, performance, and confidence by addressing concerns related to hormones, circulation, and overall wellness. Treatment options include HRT, P + O shot, medication management, peptide therapy, and more.

IV THERAPY
Custom IVs
Customized IV infusions designed to support hydration, energy, immunity, recovery, and overall wellness with a blend of vitamins, minerals, amino acids, and antioxidants tailored to your needs.
